OUR STORY

My vibe story began in 2017. I was then a partner in the coconut industry as a key contributor, and then I realized there's a huge opportunity for the attractive coconut brand, which can change the entire coconut private labeling. Moreover, I believe in the chemistry of ethical production and the finest products, which produced with love and care. The fusion helps me to initiate this lovely brand and your love for coco vibes direct to my dream. My Coco bunch, who are the real owners of this brand, putting their tears and pain to make you a vibe. I'm dreaming the opportunities beyond the traditional organic farming, which will help the farmer's to live comfortable desired life. All this effort is to see the farmers, who use artificial intelligent, automated machineries and carbon footprint processing plant facilities to deliver the modern organic products to food lovers around the world.

I saw the opportunities beyond the traditional farming against modern organic farming with technologically improved. My dream is to see the organic farm which using industrial automation and powered by solar on zero emission plant. The workers, what I prefer as co-founders should get equally share on what they giving to their organization and as a modern day farmer who should be well educated on modern automated organic farming. I believe on the chemistry of co-workers and people who falling love with our products will help me to drive to my future of organic farm. Therefore, I would like to say the "Coco Vibes" is more than a brand to you it's a combination of ethically sourced, farm fresh taste every food lover should enjoy.
