OUR PRODUCTS

Millet is rich in nutrients and plant compounds. Therefore, it may offer multiple health benefits.Millet is a starchy, protein-rich grain. It provides plenty of phosphorus and magnesium.Millet packs more calcium than any other cereal. Millet is rich in phenolic compounds,especially ferulic acid and catechins. These molecules act as antioxidants to protect your body from harmful oxidative stress

Oblong dark brown seeds with a very distinct flavor, cumin seeds are a very popular spice used for their strong aroma and bitter warm flavor. The most common consumption method is after frying or roasting. It helps in digestion and is advisable for pregnant women to treat nausea and increase lactation. It stimulates the appetite and aides detoxification of the body.

Fennel, is an herb that people have used for healing and cooking for many years.It is a sweet licorice- or anise-flavored spices. Obtained from an aromatic and medicinal plant, the seeds emit a pleasant odor, are highly aromatic and have a pungent flavor. Fennel is widely used Asian, European, Italian and Mediterranean dishes.

Sesame seed is one of the oldest oilseed crops known, domesticated well over 3000 years ago and cultivated type, originated in India. Sesame has one of the highest oil contents of any seed. With a rich, nutty flavor, it is a common ingredient in cuisines across the world. Sesame seeds are an excellent source of copper and a very good source of manganese, but they are also a good source of calcium, magnesium, iron, phosphorus, vitamin B1, zinc, molybdenum, selenium, and dietary fiber. It also helps reduce cholesterol and stress levels.

Fenugreek is an herb that is similar to clover. It is native to the Mediterranean region, southern Europe, and western Asia. The seeds are used in cooking, in medicine, and to hide the taste of other medicine. Fenugreek seeds smell and taste similar to maple syrup. Fenugreek leaves are eaten in India as a vegetable.Fenugreek appears to slow absorption of sugars in the stomach and stimulate insulin.Both of these effects lower blood sugar in people with diabetes.
